Subject: Ben & Jerry: people, Ben & Jerry's: corporation

Hi, I'm Ben.

BEN COHEN

And I'm Jerry.

JERRY GREENFIELD

I'm a person.

BEN COHEN

And I'm a person.

JERRY GREENFIELD

And together, we came up with a company called Ben & Jerry's
Homemade, Inc.

BEN COHEN

That's a corporation.

JERRY GREENFIELD

JERRY GREENFIELD

Ben, person. Jerry...

BEN COHEN

Person.

JERRY GREENFIELD

Ben & Jerry's, not a person... that's a corporation.

BEN COHEN

They're different.

JERRY GREENFIELD

But there's this problem. The Supreme Court decided that corporations are people, and that they're entitled to the same rights as people are. It's called "corporate personhood."

BEN COHEN

That's ridiculous. And what it means is that this presidential election, there will be a whole mess of shadowy money and corporate contributions backing candidates and causes on both sides of the aisle.

JERRY GREENFIELD

Except for Bernie Sanders, of course. Bernie has led the fight to put an end to the corrupting influence of big money in our politics.

BEN COHEN

From the very beginning, Bernie's called for a constitutional amendment to overturn Citizens United -- something with which we couldn't agree more couldn't agree more.

JERRY GREENFIELD

Sign Bernie Sanders' petition calling for a constitutional amendment to reverse the disastrous Citizens United Supreme Court decision.

BEN COHEN

People thought we were crazy when we started putting dough into our ice cream.

JERRY GREENFIELD

But what's really crazy is all the dough corporations are putting into politics.

BEN COHEN

This issue is so important because all of the money it introduces into the political process influences almost every issue Congress considers.

JERRY GREENFIELD

Join us and sign Bernie Sanders' campaign to overturn Citizens United.

BEN COHEN

SIGN THE PETITION

Thanks for joining us in this important effort!

Subject: Make them pay

Friend -

I am not going to start a Super PAC. I am not going to go around the country talking to millionaires and billionaires begging for contributions.

But those millionaires and billionaires are talking about us.

Just yesterday, a Super PAC supporting one of our primary opponents started running ads attacking our campaign.

Let me be very clear: the disastrous Citizens United decision that gave rise to the Super PACs embraced by our opponents undermines American democracy and moves us towards an oligarchy in which the economic and political life of the country is increasingly controlled by a handful of billionaire families.

Candidly, I did not think their attacks would happen so soon.

But know that their early involvement is a testament to the movement and momentum we're building together.

And we can also make them pay a price.

Stand up to the Super PAC attacking us by making a \$3 contribution to our campaign today, and send a powerful message that you have had enough of the billionaire class buying elections.

Real change only comes about when a large number of ordinary Americans speak, vote, and get involved in the democratic process.

If we stand together, we will win.

If we are divided, the big-money interests win.

People should not underestimate us.

Subject: [sample] Their Super PACs vs. Our Super PACK

— — — — —

Tim -

Nearly every candidate for president is going to have a Super PAC—those shadowy, unaccountable groups that can raise unlimited amounts of money in the billionaires' quest to buy our democracy.

Every candidate except for Bernie, that is. That's because Bernie is going to have a Super PACK of supporters who take on the billionaire class.

We're asking you, Tim, to join our Super PACK. All you have to do to join is make a monthly contribution to our campaign.

Click here to join Bernie's Super PACK with a \$5 monthly contribution to our campaign.

When you join Bernie's Super PACK, we'll also send you this great sticker so you can let your friends and neighbors know how you're taking on the billionaires.

Monthly contributions are so critical to our campaign. The reason we're asking you to give monthly is because it gives Bernie's campaign a sustained, predictable source of revenue.

Knowing that every month we'll be able to count on contributions from our Super PACK means that we can build the organization we need to win.

The billionaire class shouldn't be able to buy our democracy. But they're trying. So far, Super PACs have raised nearly $300 million, according to the New York Times. Most of that money comes from some of the wealthiest people in America.

In fact, donations from fewer than 400 families account for half of the total money raised so far for the presidential election. Thanks to the disastrous Citizens United Supreme Court decision, there are even shell corporations donating more than a million dollars a piece to support candidates on both sides of the aisle!

We may not have the billionaire class or shadowy corporations, but we have you, Tim.

Can you join Bernie's Super PACK with a contribution of \$5 a month?

Thanks for standing with us as we build our campaign.

Subject: "Your damn emails"

Friend -

I hope you're watching this! We're only about an hour into the debate, and we wanted to share this special moment with you.

Anderson Cooper asked about Secretary Clinton's emails and Bernie responded, "What the Secretary said is right. And that is the American people are tired of hearing about your damn emails." This campaign should be about the grotesque levels of income and wealth inequality in our country, the unprecedented planetary emergency of our changing climate, and our need to invest in jobs and education, not jails and incarceration. He got the biggest applause of the night.

We clipped the video and needed to share it with you immediately. Watch it right now, and if you're as fired up as we are about how things are going, make a contribution of $23.81 — the average donation made to our campaign during the debate — before Bernie steps off the stage.

<https://go.berniesanders.com/tonights-debate>

This is the most important night of our campaign so far. I can't wait to share the reports from our watch parties and fundraising drive with Bernie when he gets off the stage. Chip in to show your love for Bernie tonight.
